U. S. HAS NEARLY 500,000 TROOPS IN FRANCE

"SAMMIES" APPRECIATE FRENCH HOSPITALITY

REPAYING HOSPITALITY © Committee on Public Information. Supplied by U.S.

The 'Sammies' "over there" have their manners with them. These boys are billeted at a French farmhouse, not far behind the front lines, and repay the hospitality of their hosts by cleaning up the grounds and acting as amateur gardeners.

Secretary Baker in Answer to Chamberlain Today Declares U. S. Will Have 1,500,000 Men for Service in France During 1918.

Announces Millions of Big Shells Are Being Turned Out by Government, and Meets Other Criticism Made by Senator.

Declares Gen. Pershing Does Not Want Lewis Gun for Land Forces.

Rifle in Hands of Troops Better Than the Enfield.

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, January 28.—"We will have in France 500,000 men early this year," Secretary Baker today told the Senate Military Committee.

Secretary Baker said that the United States would have 1,500,000 men available for duty in France during 1918.

Germany has no idea of the number of men the United States has in France, Secretary Baker told the committee.

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, January 28.—Secretary Baker today replied to Senator Chamberlain's charges of inefficiency in the War Department at a public hearing before the Senate Military Committee.

He said his statement was not exactly supplementary to his recent one to the committee, but a comprehensive statement on all army activities in the war, especially replying to the charge that the War Department had "fallen down."

MISLEADS PEOPLE

The Secretary said he thought much criticism came from the impatience of the American people "to do this great thing greatly." He conceded that in so great an enterprise it was impossible that there should not be "delays and shortcomings."

The confidence of the country, he said, was necessary to the tremendous effort.

The mistakes cited in Senator Chamberlain's speech, he declared, gave a disproportionate aspect. Without intent, he said, the effect of the Senator's speech was to give the country the impression that deficiencies were characteristic rather than occasional.

He said he was not there to defend individuals or deny delays of false starts.

"But I think I can say in confidence that in them we have sought the remedy," he declared.

There are more than a million men under arms in this country was stated by Secretary Baker in referring to the cases of alleged neglect of the dead cited by Senator Chamberlain.

Every soldier who needs a rifle has one, he said, and a better type than if the British Enfield rifle had been adopted.

Defending the lack of Lewis machine guns, Secretary Baker reiterated that General Pershing does not want Lewis guns for the ground forces, but only for the aviation.

FEW BAD REPORTS

Referring to letters read by Senator Chamberlain concerning bad treatment of sick soldiers the Secretary said that although there are more than one million men under arms in this country the number of complaints had probably not been more than 19. Some reports had not proved serious while

AMERICAN AIRMEN IN RAID OVER GERMANY

All Aviators Return in Safety After Accomplishing Good Work in Raid Over Kaiserland.

Pan-Germans Bitter in Criticism of Austrian Foreign Minister's Peace Terms.

Break Between Germany and Austria Forecast. Riots in German Industrial Centers.

By Associated Press Dispatch. American aviators attached to a French squadron have participated in a daylight bombing raid over Germany. All returned safely. It is believed the results were good.

Count Czernin's speech on Austrian war aims and the statement that it was sent in advance to President Wilson has aroused the pan-Germans and their newspapers are bitter in their denunciations of the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister.

It is declared that the Count's action means a break in the Austro-German alliance and one German paper has been suppressed for suggesting Germany abandon her foremost ally.

Secretary Lansing today declared no copy of the Austrian foreign minister's address had been received at all.

Meanwhile pan-German attacks on leading politicians including the Emperor, continue, and reports have been received of disturbances in the industrial districts along the Rhine river in Germany.

A Zurich dispatch says 3,000 persons took part in a riot in Prague, on Friday, against the reduction of flour rations.

Activity on the western and Italian fronts is confined to raids and artillery bombardments.

Indications point to a resumption of peace negotiations with the Russians tomorrow as Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister left Vienna Sunday for the scene of the parleys.

The status of Finland has been called into question again by the outbreak of hostilities between the Finnish government forces and the Bolshevik red guards. The latter is getting help from the Russian government whose Bolshevik heads have announced they cannot refuse assistance against the Finnish Bourgeoisie.

The Bolsheviks are reported to have Helsingfors under the command of the guns of Russian warships, and to have occupied the railway station there.

Fighting is going on in the eastern provinces, according to reports, and Russian officers are said to have instituted a reign of terror.

British casualties have again dropped to relatively small winter proportions.

U. S. PATROL BOAT ASHORE

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, January 28.—An American patrol boat was today reported to the Navy Department to have gone ashore on a rock in European waters during a fog on January 25. There was no loss of life.

OHIO OBSERVES SECOND ONE

By Associated Press Dispatch. Columbus, O., January 28.—Ohio today observed heatless Monday much more extensively than it did a week ago according to reports received here.

EAST FACING WORST TIE-UP OF THE WINTER

Prospect of Heavy Snowfall Creates Unrest Among the Eastern States Citizens.

Chicago Apprehensive of Still Greater Tie-up for Railway Transportation.

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, January 28.—Industrial and railway centers of the East unaffected by the fuel administrator's weekly heatless Monday order, were forced to slow down important war operations today by a snowfall which in some sections was heavy.

Indications were that the snow would continue Tuesday from the lake region eastward and the worst tie-up of railway traffic of the winter was in prospect should predictions be fulfilled.

There will be little change today or tomorrow from the Ohio valley eastward.

Fear was expressed at Chicago that if the snow was heavy it would hamper movement of coal and food.

Coal movements were checked and freight congestion intensified by a snow storm in New York.

PENNSY HARD HIT

By Associated Press Dispatch. Philadelphia, January 28.—The biggest snowstorm of the winter, tying up the Pennsylvania railroad, is said by officials of the company to be the worst in years. Trains are stalled all along the line.

SERVICE STOPPED

New York, January 28.—Freight service in the anthracite region has been entirely stopped by the storm.

according to a statement by A. H. Smith, regional director of railroads.

COLD WAVE

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, January 28.—A cold wave was announced for tonight and Tuesday, from the Ohio valley southward.

LIEUTENANT IS SLIGHTLY HURT

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, January 28.—General Pershing today reported First Lieutenant H. A. Brown, medical reserve corps attached to the British Expeditionary force, slightly wounded in action December 31st. His mother lives at Cincinnati.

JACKSON, KY. THREATENED

By Associated Press Dispatch. Lexington, Ky., January 28.—Word reached here today that Jackson, Ky., has been visited by a flood which followed the breaking of ice gorges in the mountain streams and the town is threatened with destruction. All the residents have taken to the mountains.

PACKERS ARE NOW CHARGED

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, January 28.—Control of prices and division of live stock purchases to eliminate competition were charged to the five packing firms today by Francis J. Heney, on the basis of confidential letters and telegrams taken from the packers' files and read into the Federal Trade Commission hearing on the packing industry.

PROGRAM FOR FOOD SAVING

Washington, January 28.—(Associated Press Dispatch)—The new home card of the Food Administration has been issued and will be distributed soon throughout the United States to aid housekeepers in observing the 1918 food conservation program. The cards show this food program for Ohio people: Monday wheatless; Tuesday meatless; Wednesday wheatless; Saturday porkless; one wheatless meal every day and one meatless meal every day; save sugar every day; save fat every day.

SECOND OF THE HEATLESS DAYS FULLY OBSERVED

The second of the heatless days was observed to the letter in this city and virtually all parts of the county.

Business was at a standstill with exception of the few exemptions.

The grocery stores were open until noon, but sold nothing outside of food-stuffs. The Dahl-Campbell plant closed at noon, as was the case last Monday.

Banks remained open until the noon hour, but transacted little business.

All sales of cigars, soft drinks, etc., were suspended for the day, coming under the ban of the Garfield order.

So far as known there were no open violations of the order, and if any come to light they will be reported to the federal authorities.

Reports from all surrounding towns indicate the orders were carried out to the very letter.

It was noticeable that a great many persons had laid in a supply of cigars to carry them over the heatless day, and the sale of bottled soft drinks on Saturday and Sunday indicated that many persons obtained a supply for the "drinkless" Monday.

BIG SLEET STORM RAGES ALL NIGHT

Monday morning there was an additional two or three inches of ice-coated sleet added to the snows and sleets of the past five weeks, with the result that pedestrians found walking about as easy as plodding through the sands of the seashore.

The sleet storm raged virtually all night, and toward morning a light rainfall, followed by a freeze, resulted in a crust forming that supported the weight of an average man. This crust soon gave way, however, with the result that some four inches of sleet made walking very disagreeable.

MAKING HEADWAY ON REMODELING OF MEYERS BUILDING

The remodeling of the Meyers building, formerly occupied by the Campbell pool room, but now the property of the city, has been started. The building must first be completely dried out, so that no "frost" will be in the walls.

In order to get to the brick required it was first necessary to chop through nearly two feet of snow and ice.

The building will be thoroughly remodeled. The outside will be given a new coat of paint. A new floor will be laid; the second floor will be repaired.

When the work is completed the mayor's office will occupy the first floor, while the council chamber will occupy the second floor. This change will eliminate the confusion resulting from the crowded condition of the engine house. The rear part of the engine house will be rented, probably to the Larrier Laundry.

LIGHTNING AMID BIG SLEET STORM

Fayette county citizens were treated to a decidedly out-of-the-ordinary spectacle shortly after five o'clock on Saturday evening, during the big sleet storm, when a brilliant flash of lightning swept across the sky and fell to the earth a few miles south of this city, to be followed a few moments later by a heavy roll of thunder.

The lightning accompanied a heavy sleet storm which was raging at the time, and while the thermometer registered several degrees below freezing, and snow to the depth of more than one foot covered the ground.

One "old timer" upon beholding the lightning immediately announced that there would be frost on the 26th of May.

The occurrence under the peculiar climatic conditions at the time resulted in a great deal of discussion.

Lightning in January is exceedingly rare, but few persons remember of lightning accompanying a snow and sleet storm while the ground was blanketed in 12 inches or more of snow.

QUEEN OF RUMANIA IS FORCED TO FLEE

Recent dispatches from Petrograd say that Bolshevik agents in Moscow have seized a portion of the funds of the Rumanian treasury deposited in a Moscow bank, and also taken the Rumanian crown jewels at Kishineff. According to the dispatches, Queen Marie of Rumania has fled from Kishineff to Jersey, the Rumanian capital.

AT WORK RAISING SMILAGE FUNDS

While the work of raising "Smilage" funds for the purpose of aiding in furnishing entertainment for soldiers in camp in this country and abroad, has not been thoroughly organized in this county, some communities are taking up the work with a will and expect to raise the small amount per capita.

One of these communities is Bloomingburg, and Mayor Creath is the chairman in Bloomingburg. The work is now under way.

Others appointed for the work, if they do their patriotic duty, will get busy at once so that Fayette county may do her part in this commendable field of endeavor which will make life more bearable in the big camps.

SELECTING AIDS FOR EXAMINATIONS

Dr. D. H. Rowe, examining physician of the Fayette County Local Draft Board, is selecting a large number of assistants who will help him in the examination of the 261 drafted men called for examination on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

On the first two days 100 men will be examined each day and on the third day 61 men will be passed upon.

The examinations will be held at the Memorial Hall, which will be arranged for the work, the third floor being entirely devoted to the examinations, as heretofore.

Among the charges made by the wife are that the defendant and a manufacturer by the name of Irene Miller were in this city together on November 8th.

The banquet will be strictly "Hooverized" and will have the wheatless and meatless features, and the feast after the banquet will be along war lines, a number of prominent speakers including one or two or more than state-wide fame, being on the program for the after-dinner speeches.

Arrangements are being made to feed 400 to 500 persons, and the banquet is to be served promptly at six o'clock.

$50 AND THE COSTS METED OUT TO MAN WHO WOULDN'T TALK

The first man coming under Mayor Dahl's new rule of giving a man the maximum fine where he declines to reveal the source of his liquor supply when placed under arrest for intoxication, was Joe Mitchell, colored, old offender, who refused point blank to give the name of the man who sold him the liquor which caused his intoxication.

The man was charged with disturbing the peace by being intoxicated, and was handed the limit of $50 and the costs.

"Unless you reveal the source of your liquor supply or come across with the full amount of the fine by Tuesday morning you go to the workhouse without further delay," was the ultimatum given Mitchell before he was returned to the county jail.

The man is endeavoring to raise the amount of his fine from the man for whom he works.

"The retailers are to sell wheat flour only with an equal weight of these other cereals."

The 24 1/2 pound sack is the smallest package the mills are now allowed to pack. Realizing that some of our customers would at times prefer to purchase in smaller quantities we have stocked a supply of bulk flour.

In this way you can get your flour and an equal amount of the above substitutes in quantities to suit your convenience.

The price of the bulk flour will be 6 1-4 cents the pound.

"POPPY"

"Poppy," a Selznick-Pictures photodrama version of the popular novel by the same name, with Norma Talmadge as the star, will be the attraction at the Colonial Theatre next Wednesday. This is the third of Miss Talmadge's productions since she abandoned the program for the broader field of the open booking system, at the head of her own company. She never has had a vehicle in which there was more scope for her versatility than in "Poppy," and it promises to be the sensation of the career of this young favorite.

Though barely twenty years old, Miss Talmadge is noted for the great range of her characterizations. In "Poppy" she begins by enacting the role of a girl of fourteen, and by gradual progression finally reaches that of a cultured woman of thirty. In a singer this would be a register of three octaves. This is something more than a mere display of cleverness; it gives story a variety of incidents that makes it unique and fascinating.

The story is that of Poppy Destin, a waif, who is so cruelly treated by an aunt that she runs away. When near death in the South African desert she is befriended by Luce Abinger, who later marries her, pretending that the ceremony is one of adoption to make Poppy his ward, and as it is performed in French by a wandering priest, she remains in ignorance. Later, when the girl has reached womanhood, she rebels at the confinement, as Abinger does not permit her to leave the grounds of his home in Durbin. One night, however, a man strays into the garden. He is Evelyn Carson, a friend of Abinger's who does not know of Poppy. He is half delirious from an approaching attack of fever, and meeting the girl, and passing an ecstatic hour with her, he later believes it to have been only a dream.

Then comes Abinger's revelation to Poppy of their marriage. She loves Carson, and leaves Abinger, to make her own way as an author. Poppy wins fame and fortune, and the manner in which she later confronts the two men, in the one who thought she was only a vision, and the other who thought he could hold her by a trick wedding is a cleverly told story. Poppy has the strength of character to work out her own salvation, and she does so in an unconventional way.

The story is adapted from the play by Ben Teal and John P. Ritter, based upon the novel, "Poppy," by Cynthia Stockley. It is directed by Edward Jose, and in the supporting cast appear such favorites as Eugene O'Brien, Frederick Perry, Jack Meredith and Dorothy Rogers. Miss Talmadge has declared that Poppy is the best role she has had since she first appeared in pictures. This is high praise in view of the fact that her previous Selznick-Pictures, "Panthea" and "The Law of Compensation," are among the big successes of this year.

FUNERAL SERVICES

MR. HENRY MARK

The funeral services of Mr. Henry Mark were impressively conducted at the homestead south of town by Rev. P. W. Drumm, of New Holland, formerly pastor of the M. E. church of Staunton, and the present pastor, Rev. Rose.

Regardless of the almost impassable condition of the roads the home was filled with relatives and friends and the words of the ministers in recognition of the prominent resident, the sterling man and the Christian gentleman found their echo in every heart.

The hymns were read. It was a difficult trip from the home to the Washington cemetery where the body was placed in the vault until weather conditions permit burial in the family lot.

The pallbearers were the sons, Messrs. J. E. Fred M. C. E. Mark, and sons-in-law, Messrs. A. Cockerill, of Greenfield, Charles Roberts and Oscar Wilde.

MEMOIR.

Henry Mark was born November 29, 1834, on the farm purchased by his father, Jos. Mark, in 1828, now owned by his son, J. E. Mark. At that time no other house was located on this road between the Mark home and Beuna Vista, and but a few between there and Washington C. H. Here the subject of this memoir grew to manhood, thus being trained in the active duties of pioneer farm life.

April 15, 1858 he was married to Miss Amanda Rowe; to them were born eleven children, nine of whom are living.

Soon after their marriage they settled on the farm where the family still resides.

To say that Mr. Mark was a successful man, would hardly be expressive of the whole truth. Success does not simply mean the accomplishment of things and the accumulation of this world's goods—but more.

Brother Mark was successful. He was industrious, and his industry was rewarded. He proved the promise of the Master that if we first seek the Kingdom of God and His righteousness all things shall be added.

He was successful in business.

He was successful in rearing a large family, bringing them up in the fear of God, and doubtless has left a lasting imprint of his great worth upon them.

He was successful in his noble Christian life, which shed forth a constant gleam of pure light. Not the flash of impulse, to blaze up for a moment and then die away, but the perpetual gleam, born of faith that never went out. Early in life he gave his heart and life to God, and united with the Methodist Episcopal church at Staunton, where for nearly 60 years he has been a tireless worker.

In this successful life, however, he was ably and constantly aided by the tireless and unselfish co-operation of his life companion, who for nearly 60 years walked side by side with him, and shared the toils and sorrows as well as the joys, that came into their lives.

He was a man of great worth to the community, and was frequently honored by being called to fill positions of trust. He was universally respected and loved.

He was kindly affectioned, and a man of most exemplary habits. He never stooped to low things or vile. His conversation was always pure and above criticism.

He was generous, in his attitude toward others, always willing to lend a helping hand to the needy, and contributing to all good causes. He was most loyal to his church, and stood by it unflinchingly, at all times, by giving of his means and his time, having cheerfully filled every office in the gift of the congregation.

Brother Mark died January 21, 1918, at the advanced age of 83 years, one month and 29 days. He is one of a rugged family of 8 children, 6 of whom attained an average age of about 80 years. Four survive, one brother, Lewis, and three sisters, Mrs. Mary Stafford, Mrs. Cynthia Johnson of Leesburg, and Mrs. Hulda Patton of Wyoming, whose ages average about 84 years.

He leaves his wife, 9 children, 11 grandchildren and 6 great-grandchildren, who will ever rever his memory and rise up and call him blessed.

Double the Supply of Poultry and Eggs in the United States and Increase the Amount of Available Food 1,500,000 Tons

One hundred hens and several hundred chickens on the average farm, rightly managed, can get nearly all their living in spring, summer and fall "from the land." In feeding themselves they will utilize nearly all the waste grain, and consume great quantities of weeds, weed seeds and destructive insects.

One hundred hens and a few hundred chicks can turn a lot of farm waste into good food. Incidentally the poultry will leave on the land valuable fertilizer at the rate of two or three tons for every hundred birds.

One hundred hens on every farm, and one hundred eggs from every hen, mean more poultry and eggs for consumption on the farm, more to sell, more to substitute for red meat, and more power to our arms and the allies.

Labor on the Farm

When Virginia truck gardeners called upon Secretary Post of the Department of Labor to protest against the enticement of labor from the rural districts by offers from war work constructors and industrial plants in the larger cities and to announce at the same time that unless some action was taken to check the labor enticing activity, millions of bushels of potatoes would be lost by the truck gardeners in Virginia alone.

Secretary Post informed the delegation that steps had already been taken to put a stop to an evil which the government had not been unmindful of, but which, because of the necessity for haste in getting government work completed, it was powerless to check sooner.

The problem of labor in the rural district can no longer be disregarded. Recognizing the disarrangement which the campaign to entice laborers away from the farm was certain to cause, farmers made no protest and indulged in no counter bidding because the government has been the biggest bidder for labor on the market ever since the war work began in earnest.

Now that the rush work is well on its way to completion and the government is releasing thousands of men every week, the farmers feel, and justly too, that there should be some attention paid to their labor problems.

Especially is that true when every day and every hour the farmer is urged to plant more acres and raise bigger crops. Not even excepting the munitions makers, the work of the farmer is recognized as being the most important of the war. The American farmer must feed the world or the world will starve. It is scarcely fair for the government to permit the farm labor to be enticed to the city by offers of higher wages than the farmer can afford to pay. We must remember, too, that the price of the farmers products is regulated by law.

The government should take care that the farmers are not caught between the upper and lower millstones of legislation until their ability to meet demands is wholly or partially destroyed.

Labor on the farms is as necessary as sunshine and showers.

The Battlefield of the Farm

The large attendance at the Farmers' Institutes held during the past month, regardless of the zero weather, which invariably preceded these annual assemblies, showed splendid spirit on the part of the men and women in the communities where they were held. All kinds of inconveniences—blockades of snow drifts, fierce winds, freezing temperatures—were defied. The success of the 1917-1918 Institutes in the face of unprecedented conditions and handicaps, will be chronicled as significant testimony to the genuine interest in this educational factor in progressive farming and Domestic Science as it pertains to helpful home life.

Both the men and women of the farm are putting forth their best efforts in response to the country's appeal for increased production of farm produce. They realize what a tremendous part successful crop and stock raising will play in not only winning the war, but in preventing the horrors of a famine; they realize more and more as the number of Americans "over there" increases, that America must send food stuffs across the water or her own will suffer. The spirit of '76 calls out the "Minute Man" of 1918 and finds him in the farmer eager to till more acres and to make them give up bigger yields, to spend himself as he never has before in his duty on the battle field of the farm. And in the Farmers' Institutes is furnished just the ammunition he needs—the wisdom of men who have studied and experimented and are giving out the results of their knowledge—the exchange of ideas and the stirring up of ambition to excel.

The opportunity of the Institute came to Fayette county and the number who allowed no discomfort to interfere with the helpfulness of its sessions, is gratifying proof of wide awake zeal for whatever forward movement there may be in agricultural lines.

Not So Bad After All

Another cold wave!

It may be all right; it may be necessary in working out nature's plans; it may be that it checked the rapid rise of waters loosened from the grip of zero weather and prevents flood conditions possible under too rapid a thaw! But we're not crazy about it for all that!

How we welcome that temporary relief from long continued cold even if it did bring slush and rivulets underfoot.

Then just as the thaw set in and melted snow ran from the house tops in miniature cataracts; just as giant icicles began dropping without warning and in many a home accumulated masses of snow dripped down the walls, came the last word from the weather bureau—cold wave on the way!

Well it wasn't any false alarm! It came and it's here! But maybe it had its mission and anyway it's almost over now and we're promised warmer weather this week.

Poetry For Today

HERE'S TO THE MASSES!

We hear of the supermen, talented, strong.
 The big men of "push" and of "go;"
 We hear of great fighters, great thinkers and writers,
 And captains of industry, too,
 The praises of such have quite justly been sung,
 They've proved themselves worthy of fame,
 But what of the masses—the common-sense classes?
 They, surely, some credit may claim.
 Their work, reckoned singly, admitted, looks small,
 Compared with the superman's bit;
 But, when they're united, their work can't be slighted—
 In capitals large it is writ.
 At home, at the benches, in air, sea and trenches
 They've proved they are worthy their hire,
 To folks influential their help is essential
 To rise to the heights they aspire.
 No man can unaided the highest attain;
 The leader must have folks to lead;
 The inventor's brain must have others to train
 Ere his ideas to fullness proceed.
 So here's to the masses, who, doing their bit,
 Get little of praise or of pelf!
 'Tis an honor to boast, as one bows to the toast,
 "I'm one of the masses myself."
 —Tid Bits.

HALL CRITICISED

(By American Press)

Columbus, Jan. 28.—The administration of the state banking department under Harry T. Hall, superintendent during the Willis administration, is criticised in many particulars in a report by State Examiners J. A. Bliss and A. B. Dawson to the state auditor. In a preface, addressed to the governor, Auditor Donahey says: "Since January, 1913, I have had opportunity to observe the administration of the banking department and it is my candid opinion that during this entire period it has been operated in an extravagant manner and dominated by party politics." The report says that while the law requires banks to be examined at least once a year, there were 74 banks past due when Mr. Hall retired from office Jan. 29, 1917, 59 of which had not been examined since 1915. Hall is criticised for keeping secret records of the examinations of companies by the blue sky division, when the law says all reports shall be open to the public.

SELL OLD TAGS; BUY W. S. STAMPS

Classified ads pay big dividends

Columbus, O. — (Special) — From the Ohio War Savings committee comes the suggestion to Ohio automobile owners that they save their old license tags, junk them and deposit the proceeds in Thrift Stamps. This proposal is in keeping with the request from the governmental agencies to reclaim all waste material and use the money thus derived in buying United States War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps.

The state automobile registrar is planning to sell all old tags in his office and use the proceeds to buy War Savings Stamps, which will be kept in trust for the state until maturity. Already a number of old tags have been received by the registrar from various sections of the state. In some sections of the state, children are being encouraged to gather up old scrap and sell it, investing the revenue in War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps.

Only the dead are the unsalvaged. Every scrap of stuff that can be transported from the din and dust of the waste of war is being saved. Carry this scheme into the home—save and serve when you buy War Savings Stamps.

ALARMING NUMBER OF TRACHOMA CASES

The prevalence of the contagious eye disease, trachoma, to an alarming degree has been found in the Waverly and neighboring schools.

Miss Bertha A. Fells, trained nurse of the State Commission for the Prevention of Blindness is now conducting an investigation in Waverly with a view of stamping out the epidemic. It is estimated that more than 100 cases of the disease exist in and near Waverly.

Drastic steps will be taken toward preventing further spread of the epidemic and to provide proper treatment for those afflicted.

PARALYSIS CAUSES SUDDEN DEATH

With a suddenness that caused over powering shock to her family Mrs. Elizabeth J. Hollingsworth answered the death summons at 9:45 Sunday night, aged 60 years.

Mrs. Hollingsworth had seemed in her usual health and followed her custom of attending Sunday School at Wesley Chapel. She had started to teach her Sunday School class, when stricken with paralysis, and never regained consciousness. She was at once removed from the church to her home on the corner of Hinde and Elm streets, a sled being secured for the trip.

The sympathy of the community goes out greatly to the daughter, Miss Jean who, with her mother made the home and also to the two daughters, and close relatives in the east, receiving the sad word with no forewarning.

Mrs. L. L. Bowman the daughter who made her home in this city for several years and is now residing in Camonsburg, Pa., and the other daughter, Mrs. Charles Klingensmith, of Greensburg, Pa., and a sister, Mrs. Harry Greek, also of Greensburg, are expected to arrive this evening.

Mrs. Hollingsworth had made many friends in this city since coming here from Pennsylvania some years ago, and her death arouses much regret. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church, and had been for some time actively connected with the work of Wesley Chapel.

Short services will be held at the home Tuesday at 9 a. m. in charge of Rev. Gage and Rev. Cherrington. The body will be taken on the 10-47 train Tuesday morning to the old home in Greensburg, Pa., where funeral services will be held and interment made in the Greensburg cemetery.

FRANCE'S HUGE GOLD RESERVE

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Paris, January 19.—The flow of gold into the Bank of France was given a fresh impetus by the third war loan. After reaching more than 100,000,000 francs a week during the early stages of the campaign and gradually declining to a little over a million, the receipts went up again to more than two millions.

The total gain to the bank's gold reserve since the beginning of the war now totals 2,250,000,000 francs, bringing the reserve up to 5,351,000,000 million francs without recourse to any other than persuasive measures.

TO GET FLOUR YOU MUST BUY EQUAL AMOUNT OF CEREAL

Don't blame the grocer if he insists that you buy an equal amount of other cereal when you order a sack of flour! He is obeying instructions of the United States Food Commissioner.

The first experience of buyers of flour when they bumped into the new order of the food commissioner, Monday morning, was a shock to those who had not read the papers, and they were inclined to be indignant at their grocer until they were informed that under the new order a person must buy as much cereal as flour.

The cereal in question can be either corn meal, hominy, rolled oats, or any of the numerous non-wheat breakfast foods, etc.

The new order has been necessary, it is explained, to insure an ample supply of wheat bread for the soldiers of America and her allies, and because so many persons who have not yet awakened to the fact that their country is at war have failed to properly observe the wheat conservation orders previously issued.

MUST GIVE SOURCE OR DRAW THE LIMIT

Mayor V. J. Dahl announced Monday morning that the time had come when he will no longer tolerate failure of drunks to give the source of their supply of booze, and that those who do not reveal from whence they purchased the liquor, will draw the maximum fine, which can be made very heavy in such instances.

His declaration is the result of the failure of a number of intoxicated men to tell from whom they purchased their supply of booze.

By this means Mayor Dahl expects to unearth a number of persons who are believed to be engaged in bootlegging.

RESUMES PRACTICE IN THIS CITY SOON

Dr. A. D. Woodmansee, who was formerly associated with Dr. G. S. Hodson, as practicing Homeopathic physician, leaving this city to take up the practice of his profession in Circleville, a year and a half ago, is returning to Washington. He will open offices in the Y. M. C. A. building, opposite the Cherry Hotel, the first of February.

Dr. Woodmansee resigned the position of township physician upon leaving for Circleville, and has been re-appointed to this position for the coming year by the commissioners.

A progressive young physician, who made friends galore during his brief residence here, Dr. Woodmansee and his wife (nee Edna Chennault) will be cordially welcomed back to Washington's professional and social circles.

DRAW $5 AND COSTS FOR STEALING COAL

James Smith, colored, and Tom Sward, facing Mayor V. J. Dahl, Monday morning, each drew $5 and the costs on a charge of stealing coal and selling it.

Both men were warned that a repetition of the offense would result in the maximum fine being assessed.

Other affidavits have been issued, it is understood, and an attempt to break up the stealing of coal to be sold is being made.

Hundreds of tons of coal have disappeared in this way from cars standing on sidings in this city, and the practice has become so widespread that wholesale arrests are indicated before the stealing is stopped.

FARM TRACTORS EXPECTED TO AID FOOD PRODUCTION

Practical Use of Tractors Fully Demonstrated and Many Will Be Sold to Fayette Farmers Under Plan Suggested by Gov. Cox, it is Believed.

Fayette county's production of food-stuffs in 1918 undoubtedly will be increased by the use of farm tractors, is the opinion of Mr. Valentine Hoppes who manages the tractor business of The Ortman Motor Company, and who attended the recent tractor conference in Columbus.

Mr. Hoppes says that the conference of tractor manufacturers and dealers with Governor Cox was of decided benefit. The movement started in that conference will bring farm tractors to Ohio which otherwise would have been sold elsewhere.

This will enable Ohio farmers to plow more land and, thereby increase food production.

The Governor's plan for financing tractor sales enables any farmer to buy a tractor who actually has need for it.

The local and state tractor schools are bringing farmers to a realization of the advantages of the tractor, but the practical use of tractors on Fayette county farms has demonstrated their great value to the farmer.

ALLEN-BELLAR

Mr. William C. Allen and Mrs. Cora Bellar were united in marriage Saturday evening at 4:30 o'clock at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. Arthur P. Cherrington.

Mr. Allen has quite a reputation as a maker of the famous fair time ice cream candy. His bride was engaged in dress making, and resided at the corner of Broadway and Sycamore streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen went at once to housekeeping to their home, which was in readiness at 920 Temple street.

Their friends are extending best wishes.

PLAN TODAY FOR MEATLESS TUESDAY

The Ohio War Board Says Today:— Plan today your meals for meatless Tuesday.

In planning meatless meals always bear in mind that you are doing a service for your country—that you are helping to feed the army and the people of our allies who are facing starvation in Europe.

It will take besides other foods 13,350,000 pounds of beef and 3,375,000 pounds of bacon a month to feed the army we plan to send over to France.

We must manage to send them at least this much a month.

We will not have to go hungry to do this. Use other foods. Here is a suggestion for a meatless meal:

Peanut Butter Loaf

1 cup mashed potatoes, 1 cup peanut butter, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons grated onions, 1-2 teaspoon grated nutmeg, 1-8 teaspoon paprika.

To the hot mashed potatoes add the peanut butter, well beaten egg and other ingredients. Put in greased baking pan and bake in hot over 35 to 40 minutes.

U.S. HAS 500,000 TROOPS

in manufacture of 75 millimeter and three inch shells, and 25 percent in other sizes since the country entered the war.

Describing the spirit of the army officers Secretary Baker said he had seen strong grizzled men turn away from his desk in tears when they had found that they could not go to France, "where the glory of their profession lay," but must remain in Washington to press forward war preparations. There was no case, he added, of any officer who had not accepted his duty with his whole heart.

BILL AN ACTIVE ISSUE THIS WEEK

(By American Press)

Washington, Jan. 28.—Extended debate on war efficiency is planned this week in both senate and house.

Administration leaders of both bodies are preparing addresses championing the government's record and replying to its critics.

Much progress is expected on the administration railroad legislation. Final arguments of railroad and other counsel are being made today before the house interstate commerce committee. Arguments have been concluded before the senate committee, which started work in revision of the measure.

The senate military committee's army investigation will proceed, after Secretary Baker's examination is concluded, with inquiry into the aviation service and other army branches. The committee expects to reconsider the Chamberlain war cabinet bill, probably reporting it to the senate, with a minority dissent proposing reference to the naval committee. When it will be brought before the senate, where administration leaders are confident of killing the measure, is problematical.

The senate commerce committee will proceed with its ship building investigation, giving special attention to the record of Theodore Ferris, former chief architect of the emergency fuel corporation.

The administration soldiers and sailors' civil rights, or "civil relief" bill is to be considered by the senate judiciary committee, which plans an early report to the senate. More than a score of minor army and navy bills are awaiting consideration.

Another meeting is planned during the week of the senate manufactures subcommittee to consider reports of its recent investigations of the sugar and coal shortages.

Two big war conservation measures are liable to become active issues in the house soon. One is the president's bill for broad price-fixing powers, on which he recently called a White House conference of members of the house agricultural committee. Chairman Lever, who has a copy of the bill, is safeguarding it until he determines whether he will introduce it in its present form. Meanwhile Mr. Lever has introduced another government control measure, a bill empowering the president to modify or otherwise regulate the sale, use, manufacture and distribution of any foodstuffs or feed by public eating places, manufacturers, producers or carriers.

The house appropriations committee will soon report a huge urgent deficiency bill to provide for war needs by an appropriation based on official estimates of $1,500,000,000 for the army and navy, and other government branches. The $27,000,000 agricultural appropriation bill will be passed by the house early this week. It will be followed by the $8,000,000 diplomatic and consular appropriation bill.

HUNGER DISEASE RIFE IN AUSTRIA

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Amsterdam, December 30.—The ravages of the new hunger disease, called in Germany "famine-dropsy," are described in the Budapest newspaper Nepszava. Men are attacked by it chiefly between the ages of 40 and 50, and unless the patient can be given plenty of nourishment, the disease is very likely to prove fatal.

In the small town of Asch 900 cases have been reported, 3 percent of which already have proved fatal.

WAR IN NEW BERLIN, OHIO VILLAGE SICK OF NAME IT BEARS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Canton, O., January 28.—The war overseas has developed another war on a smaller scale in the village of New Berlin, Stark county, where residents are considerably divided over the question of the change of the name of the village to North Canton.

The Stark county common pleas court will settle the matter Wednesday, January 30, when a hearing will be held on a petition filed by a number of citizens of New Berlin for the change in name. If the court allows the change it will be after a hard fight on the part of a group of village residents who are strenuously opposing action of the kind.

"Because of the present war in which the United States of America is engaged with Germany," declare the petitioners, "and more especially because of the many atrocities and the frightful barbarities committed by the army of the Imperial German Government, the name of Berlin has become odious to many Americans and on account of this aversion to the name, certain lines of business in the village of New Berlin have been injured and the name criticized by customers.

"Beside this" they continue, "Canton is a city whose name, because of its diversified industries, the activities of its enterprising business men and the fact that it was the home of President McKinley, has a place on the map and is known all over the world."

The contention is made that three-fourths of the residents of New Berlin are in favor of the change. However, shortly after the filing of the petition a remonstrance was handed to the court, signed by several hundred persons who claim the change "is not desirable." They are preparing to wage a real battle in court.

Among those who favor the change and who signed the original petition are W. H. Hoover, prominent manufacturer; Mayor John B. Mohler, former Mayor Charles H. Schafer, Postmaster William J. Evans, Representative Frank C. Wise, of the state assembly, President A. A. Swope of the village board of education, several councilmen and others.

The village's patriotism never has been questioned as its residents have bought Liberty Bonds liberally, subscribed to different war causes generously and have otherwise manifested their loyalty to the government. It is located five miles north of Canton and has a population of 1200.

INTERESTING MEN ON PROGRAM FOR FARMERS' WEEK

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Columbus, O., January 28.—Two American diplomats who have first-hand information regarding German intrigue and conditions in Belgium and Germany, are on the Farmers' Week program, to be held at Ohio State university for one week beginning today. They are Hugh S. Gibson, secretary of the American Legation in Belgium at the beginning of the war, and Joseph Grew, counselor of the American Embassy at Berlin during ex-Ambassador Gerard's term.
Both Gibson and Grew will speak today, the opening day of the week's program. Gibson will speak at 1:30 in the afternoon and Grew at 7:30 this evening. Mr. Gibson will tell of his trip through the German and Belgian lines from Brussels to Antwerp, and of his efforts to save the life of the English nurse, Edith Cavell.
Mr. Grew was instrumental in interesting Herbert Hoover, national food administrator, in Belgium's food problem. He was made personal aid to Arthur Balfour on his recent mission to the United States. In addition to the information regarding foreign affairs which they will bare before the farmers, they will carry to them a patriotic message regarding the relation of the farmer to the war in view of the serious problems that face the farmer.
Announcement was made today that Professor Joseph F. Cox, acting head of the department of Farm Crops at the Michigan Agricultural college, will act as judge at the Ohio State Corn Show, which will be held during the week. The corn show promises to be of unusual interest this year on account of the scarcity of good seed corn. The corn show will be held in the university armory.

RETURNING HOME A HERO OF THE AIR

LIEUTENANT JOSEPH C. STEHLIN.
Lieutenant Joseph C. Stehlin, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was one of the American aviators taken over by Uncle Sam from the Lafayette Escadrille. This youngster left his home about a year ago and worked his way to France on a freight steamer. Arriving there, he applied for admission to the Lafayette Escadrille, a French aerial corps, and was accepted. Twenty days after reporting for duty he brought down his first German plane and since then he has accounted for three more. He has been decorated with the French Croix de Guerre with two palms, and recently received his discharge from the French service, and has been commissioned a lieutenant in Uncle Sam's Aviation Corps. Lieutenant Stehlin is twenty years old and is on his way home to visit his parents on a short furlough.

count of the scarcity of good seed corn. The corn show will be held in the university armory.
In addition to the corn show, the State Horticultural Society has arranged for an educational exhibit of spray machinery and other approved modern equipment for the orchardists. The Ohio Experiment Station at Wooster will send a great deal of material illustrating the injury of insects and fungus diseases to fruit and trees.
An exhibit of labor saving appliances adapted to rural homes will be one of the features of the women's program. The exhibit will consist of a large number of washing machines, churns, electrical appliances such as irons, vacuum cleaners, toasters, and hot water systems.
The meetings of the Ohio Farm Women's clubs will be held Thursday and Friday. Mrs. A. G. Abbott, of Wadsworth, the president, will preside.

JOIN FORCES

(By American Press)

Columbus, Jan. 28.—The Ohio War Roads convention will be held in this city Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Three societies, the Ohio Good Roads Federation, Ohio Engineering society and County Commissioners' Association of Ohio, have joined their forces for the convention. It is a gathering called to emphasize importance of civilian work for the country to help to win the war. The committee in charge says the program is to "summons every citizen to service wherever that service counts most." In every department of the triple-headed organization the growing need of continued enlargement and improvement of highway construction is made the center of discussion. The program abounds in topics which relate directly to highway building and maintenance.
A sentence of five years was returned at Dallas, Tex., by the jury in the case of Mrs. Katie Ahlers, alias Katherine Trevors, charged with the killing of Phil E. Tucker last October.

MANY PLANTS MAY BE CLOSED

(By American Press)

Washington, Jan. 28.—The public must expect a radical curtailment of public utilities, munition factories and all industrial activities dependent upon oil shipments, unless immediate relief can be had from the embargoes the railroads have placed against the movement of tank cars, both loaded and empty, according to a statement issued by the petroleum war service committee.
The petroleum industry has made an urgent appeal to the director general of railways to order the railroads at the earliest possible moment to give preferred movement to tank cars.
"Unless some radical steps are taken to speed up the movement of tank cars for petroleum products," the statement said, "the railroads themselves will run short of lubricating oil. Already the failure of the railroads to haul tank cars has forced a number of plants to shut down for lack of petroleum products.
"While deliveries by tank cars under normal railroad conditions is 18,000,000 barrels a month, in December, due to the failure of the roads to haul loaded tank cars, or to return empty cars to loading points, the deliveries amounted to only 12,000,000 barrels, a deficit of 6,000,000 barrels, or 33 per cent. In January, according to the performance of the roads for the first 15 days, deliveries will show a decrease of 45 per cent as compared to the normal amount.
"Due to the shortage of coal, many plants are depending entirely upon fuel oil to operate their plants. Oil used to manufacture gas is an absolute essential at this time, when the demands for gas for domestic purposes—heating, lighting and cooking—are greater than ever before. A supply can be furnished to gas companies only by tank cars."

ARRIVAL OF UNITED STATES SUPPLY TRAIN

SHAVE A LEG.

Here are some of our boys somewhere over there stretching their legs after a long trip over rough and rocky roads on a motor munitions and supply train. The boys have just arrived at a point not far behind the first lines and are being greeted by some of their French comrades, who are fighting with them for the cause of democracy against autocracy.

ALL NOW ON WAR BREAD

(By American Press)

Washington, Jan. 28.—Bakers began today the manufacture of the new victory loaf, a war bread containing a 5 per cent substitute for wheat flour, prescribed by the food administration as a part of its 1918 food conservation program. At the same time grocers will sell to householders wheat flour only when the purchaser buys an equal amount of some other cereal.

The reduced rations are asked for the purpose of creating a larger export surplus of food for the European allies. Curtailment of consumption will be accomplished largely by voluntary effort, but force will be employed wherever permitted under the food control act.

The rationing system, as presented by the president in a proclamation and by Food Administrator Hoover in a list of regulations, forms the food administration's 1918 food conservation program, of which the chief features are:

A baker's bread of mixed flours, beginning today with a 5 per cent substitution of other cereals for wheat until a 20 per cent substitution is reached Feb. 24; sale by retailers to householders of an equal amount of substitute flours for every pound of wheat flour purchased at the time the wheat flour is bought; sale by millers to wholesalers and wholesalers to retailers of only 70 per cent of the amount of wheat flour sold last year.

Two wheatless days a week, Monday and Wednesday, and one wheat-less meal a day. One meatless day a week, Tuesday, and one meatless meal a day. Two porkless days a week, Tuesday and Saturday.

GENERAL WOOD
IS WOUNDED

(By American Press)

Washington, Jan. 28.—Major General Leonard Wood, in France on an observation tour, was slightly wounded by an accidental explosion which killed five French soldiers and hurt two other American officers. Secretary Baker announced the accident in this statement:

"A cable dispatch from the headquarters of General Pershing states that an accidental explosion killed five French soldiers and slightly injured Major General Wood in the arm, Lieutenant Colonel Charles E.
Kilbourne in the eye and Major Kenyon A. Joyce in the arm."

General Wood's tour would carry him both to the front and to the American training camps behind the lines, but there is no indication as to where the accident occurred.

All of the divisional commanders have been or will be sent to Europe for brief periods. General Wood, commanding Camp Funston, Kan., went over several weeks ago.

HORSE MEAT

(By American Press)

New York, Jan. 28.—A resolution requesting congress "to appropriate immediately $100,000 to re-establish the inspection of horse meat," so that it may be made saleable, was adopted by veterinary surgeons from New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Connecticut at a conference here. The sale of horse meat, the conferees determined, will be of invaluable aid in preventing a food shortage and reducing the high cost of living.

The inspection of horse meat was abandoned in 1914, Dr. W. Horace Hopkins, dean of the New York state veterinary college and one of the leaders of the movement, said in a statement. If it is restored, he continued, thousands of horses from the western ranges, unsuited for draught work because of their light weight, can be placed on the dinner table.

WILL STRIKE
AT THE U. S.

(By American Press)

Washington, Jan. 28.—Secretary of War Baker in his weekly military review declares that the Germans are preparing for a great submarine offensive against the American lines of communication with France in connection with the impending Teutonic drive against the west front.

Recently there has been a marked decrease in the number of allied merchant ships sunk by submarines. The explanation for this is found in the withdrawal of submarines in preparation for the coming thrust on land and sea. The review says:

"As the time draws near when once again the enemy will endeavor to strike a decisive blow in the west, it must be emphasized that he will not be content with mere military operations on a large scale.

"During the past fortnight enemy submarines have been recalled to home ports to be refitted and the most powerful submarine offensive hitherto undertaken may be expected to be launched against our lines of communication with France, to interrupt the steady flow of men and munitions for our own armies and food supplies for the allies."

The Ohio War Board
Says Today

Plan today your meals for meatless
Tuesday.

In planning meatless meals always bear in mind that you are doing a service for your country—that you are helping to feed the army and the people of our allies who are facing starvation in Europe.

It will take, besides other foods,
13,250,000 pounds of beef and 3,275,000 pounds of bacon a month to feed the army we plan to send over to France.

We must manage to send them at least this much a month.

We will not have to go hungry to do this. Use other foods. Here is a suggestion for a meatless meal:

Peanut Butter Loaf.

1 cup mashed potatoes,
1 cup peanut butter,
1 egg,
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley,
2 teaspoons salt,
2 teaspoons grated onions,
1/2 teaspoon grated nutmeg,
1/2 teaspoon paprika.

To the hot mashed potatoes add the peanut butter, well beaten egg and other ingredients. Put in greased baking pan and bake in hot oven 35 to 40 minutes.
